COOKIES POLICY

We believe in transparency and honesty about how we collect and utilize your data. The present Cookies policy is applied to all products and services related to this policy or embodied to it by reference. We utilize cookies and similar technologies for collecting and using data as part of our services, as defined in our Privacy Policy.

Cookies are little text files that store the user's activities for a certain period. Cookies store your navigation history, as well as logins and passwords. It is because of it that you can access your account without having to always insert your register data every time, since the navigator uses cookies and does that for you. Besides several functional aspects, cookies also perform an excellent service in systems known as Google Drive, as an example.

Type of Technology:	Description
Cookies	A cookie is a little file added to your device or computer that allows you to activate the resources and functionalities. Any new navigator that accesses our websites may receive our cookies or from third parties, as our customers, partners, or service providers. We or third parties, can also put cookies in your navigator when you visit websites that are not the current and that show advertises or that host our plug-ins or tags. We use two kinds of cookies: persistent cookies and session cookies. A persistent cookie lasts beyond the current session, and it's used for many finalities, to recognize you as user, making it easier your return and interaction with our services without having to login again into your account. As the persistent cookie remains in your navigator, it will be read anytime that you return to one of our websites or visit a third party's website that uses our services. Session cookies last only until the end of the session (usually, during the visit to a website or during a navigator's session).
Pixels	Un píxel es una pequeña imagen que puede ser encontrada en páginas de la web y en e-mails y que exige una llamada (que fornece informaciones sobre el dispositivo y sobre la visita) a nuestros servidores para que el píxel aparezca en estas páginas de la web y en e-mails. Utilizamos píxels para saber más sobre sus interacciones con el contenido de e-mails o de la web. Por ejemplo, si usted interactuó con anuncios o publicaciones. Píxels también permite que nosotros y terceros instalemos cookies en su navegador.
Local storage	The local storage allows a website or app to store information locally in your devices. The local storage can be used for website experience improvement, for example, enabling resources, remembering your preferences and accelerating the website functionality.
Others similar technologies:	We also use other tracking technologies, as identifiers and markers for publicity in mobile devices for similar purposes, as described in this Cookies Policy.

Our cookies chart lists some of the cookies used by us and third parties as part of our services.

Note that this chart can be updated from time to time providing you with the more recent information.

How these technologies are used

We described below in which way we can use cookies:

Finality	Description
Authentication	We use cookies to recognize when you access our services. When you access the website, the cookies help us to display the correct information and personalize your experience according to your settings.
Security	We use cookies to make your interaction with our services more agile, safer and to help us detect malicious activities.
Preferences, resources and services	We use cookies to enable the website's plugins in and out of the website. Our plug-ins can be found on the website or on third parties' websites, as our customers and partners. If you interact with a plug-in, it will use cookies to identify you and start your request.
Functional	We use cookies to enhance your experience on our websites.
Plugins Inside and Outside	We use cookies to enable site plugins both within and outside of the sites. Our plugins can be found on the site or on third-party sites, such as those of our clients and partners. If you interact with a plugin, it will use cookies to identify you and initiate your request.
Personalized publicity	The cookies help us to show relevant publicity to you, both in and out of our services, as well as to measure the performance of said publicity and provide reports about them. We use cookies to know if the content was shown to you, or if someone who saw the publicity came back and realized an action (as example: downloaded a technical document or bought something) in another website. We also can work with our customers and partners to show an advertisement to you in and out of the website, as for as after you visited the website or app of a customer or partner.
Analysis and research	Cookies help us know more about the performance of our services and plugins in different locations. We or our service providers use cookies to understand, improve and research products, resources and services, including while you navigate our websites or when you access the website through other websites, apps or devices. We, or our service providers use cookies to determine and analyze the performance of advertising or posts in and out of the website and to know if you interacted with our websites or with our customers' websites, content or e-mails and provide analysis based on these interactions. If you are a website user, but logged off your account in one navigator, the website can keep recording your interactions with our services on that navigator for at least 30 days, to generate utilization analysis of our services. We can share theses analysis in an aggregated way with our customers. website. Furthermore, your navigator or device may have settings that allow you to choose if you want to define cookies or not and delete them. The controls vary according to the navigator, the manufacturers can, at any moment, change the settings and the way they work. You can find on the links above additional information about the controls which popular navigators provide. Certain parts of the products from the website may not work correctly if the cookies used by the navigator were deactivated. Be aware that these controls are different from those offered by the website.
